LITTLE ALTRUISTS

The children in EYFS at Rayleigh Primary made some biscuits as their chosen pro-social reward for filling their token box.

They shared their biscuits with the nursery children, which was a great example of how they demonstrate our Trust's values — even at the very start of their school journey.

CEO REFLECTIONS

This month we have learnt about Martin Luther King, Rosa Parks, Bruce Lee & Elizabeth II.

A member of our Central Team reads a book from a series of books called "Little People, Big Dreams" to teach the children about the great things that people do that demonstrates the rights of a child. It's also a great way for adults to learn more than just their story of being famous so we encourage you to take a look. Recordings of our readings can be found under the Our Community section of our website.

CEO FOR THE DAY

Our Year 6 pupils from across all schools spent the day in their new roles as CEO, Finance Manager, Estates Lead, and Central Teacher.

The children applied for the roles we advertised and were selected following a very gruelling interview process. We also appointed deputies for each role, as we were so impressed by the quality of all their applications.

All the children visited each of the three schools—checking in on pupils, sampling school dinners, and carrying out important health and safety checks!

At the end of the day, they confidently presented their findings to all three Headteachers, as well as the CEO, sharing what they had learned.

Check out their CEO Assembly recording on our website to see them in action!

A message from Dr. Faris

This week a pupil said to me something that brightened up my year: “the old trust didn’t do anything, but Schools for Every Child makes our schools better places” - that is why we exist. To connect the schools for the sharing of best practice, to support each other to constantly improve for the pupils and to provide services that our schools wouldn’t be able to afford on their own. I wish everyone a brilliant summer break. I am going to China to practice my Mandarin learning and I hope you have a well earned break also; 快乐的夏天

PASSING THE BATON

Our Pupil Senate have now completed their term with us and will hand over to our newly appointed Pupil Senate in September.

The Pupil Senate Chairs and the rest of the Senators have done an amazing job coming together to discuss our Trust Values, explore the principles of democracy, and shape how we use these to ensure pupils’ voices from across the Trust are heard and influence Trust-wide decisions.

They have met with our Trustees throughout the year, providing updates on their work, which the Trustees have thoroughly enjoyed. The Trustees now look forward to meeting the next group of Pupil Senators.
